The Core Collaborative Professional Learning Network has connected a team of distinguished scholars and practitioners to synthesize and leverage the latest research and efforts on mindfulness, social networks, cognitive development, and student motivation to take student-centered teaching practices system wide.

Our commitment is to strengthen and expand student-centered systems while practicing mindfulness, empowering leaders to be more grounded, connected, focused and authentic.

Audience: Teacher Leaders, District Leadership Teams, School Leadership Teams, Principals, Teacher Leaders, Curriculum & Instruction, Assessment Teams

To expand and support student-centered systems attendees will:

- Expand and share practices regarding student-centered assessment.
- Learn the basics of neuroscience and mindfulness that support student centered systems.
- Enhance leadership supports for student-centered systems.
- Nurture, practice, and cultivate self-awareness for student-centered systems.
- Explore the dynamic role of the individual and the collective in support of professional capital.

MindFuelED is a collaboration between the Department of Education Studies at UCSD and The Core Collaborative, Inc.
