

Meet Bob and his friends

An unusual family of animals is winning hearts on Instagram. This has attracted over 77,000 viewers so far by regularly sharing snapshots from the life of one man's pets: an eccentric but tight-knit group that consists of 1 golden retriever, 1 hamster, and 8 birds.

31-year-old Luiz Higa Junior of São Paulo, Brazil, says that his golden retriever, Bob, is a little less than 2 years old.

In the beginning, he just had Bob, a cockatiel and a parakeet.

"Since the beginning I put them together to see their behavior,” he tells us. “It was nice, so I decided to have them play together sometimes during my free time.”; He then added more birds and a hamster to the group. His photos show the group posing, playing, exploring, & resting together.

Why can't humans learn to get along together like this?
